Under the Patronage of Her Royal Highness Princess Margriet of the Netherlands and Professor Pieter van Vollenhoven

Building on the enduring heritage and values shared between the peoples of the Netherlands and the United States, the Netherland-America Foundation seeks to further strengthen the bonds between our two countries through exchange in the arts, sciences, education, business and public affairs.

Dear Member,

It is my pleasure to present, on behalf of the Board of Directors of the Netherland-America Foundation (NAF) and the Executive Committee of the Board, our annual review of activities, financial results and membership support over 2008. As you probably expect, the year provided its challenges, but I am happy to report that the NAF weathered the financial storms well and came through in sound financial condition. That is not to say that prudence on our part, and continued support on your and our part, are not essential…but together we will do fine.

Though, as more fully discussed in the financial section of this Annual Review, the NAF incurred a substantial decline in its Net Assets, we actually returned to the (solid) financial position we enjoyed at the start of 2005. In between, we disbursed more than $3.1 million in Fulbright Fellowships, grants and study loans. And, during these years, the reach and impact of the NAF dramatically extended with chapters across the United States.

This review should give you a good sense of both the impact that your support enables, as well as the sheer volume of work that gets done every year by a large number of committed volunteers and a small, but very productive, staff. I think you will agree that, due to their efforts, the NAF manages to make its financial resources go a long way.

Let me close by thanking you for your support during 2008, and by expressing the wish you will continue to stand by us in 2009 and beyond. While our budgets for this year appropriately reflect current economic realities, we do need your continued investment in our mission to help us sustain our fellowship, grant, and study loan programs...we could not do it without you!

Ennius E. Bergsma
Chair
The NAF Chapters in Boston, Chicago, San Francisco (Northern California), Los Angeles (Southern California) and Washington, DC have thrived throughout 2008 with the support of local leaders and community members. Adopting the model of the NAF headquarters, four of the five chapters now operate with a core leadership team assisted by several committee members whose tasks range from planning programs, to collaborating with other Dutch-related entities, to raising membership and corporate funds. While the past six months have made everyone’s work more difficult, the chapters have proven themselves equal to the task by producing events of continuing relevance and interest to their constituencies.

For the fourth consecutive year, the Southern California Chapter organized and presented the outstanding Prinses Christina Concours concert tour, with performances in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Vancouver and for the first time in 2008, Washington, DC. The chapter’s annual Dutch-American Heritage Day Gala honored Hendrika Neyts, recognizing her outstanding charitable and philanthropic work in the San Francisco Bay area.

The NAF’s newest chapter, Boston, opened its year with a festive holiday party at the Winchester Country Club, raising funds for the Foundation’s education programs. The chapter hosted a number of business and cultural events throughout the year, including a special Queen’s Day golf tournament and dinner to accompany the annual reception hosted by the Honorary Consul General. A highlight of the Boston year was a breakfast meeting at the Taj Hotel in November to welcome the new Dutch Ambassador to the United States, Her Excellency Renée Jones-Bos.

Continuing its focus on the environment and green business, the Northern California Chapter conducted a series of events kicked off by a presentation on sustainability and global warming by (then) Dutch Ambassador to the United States, Christiana Mark Johan Kröner, at the UC, Berkeley campus. The highlight of the series was the Climate Change and Flood Management Webinar, linking world class experts in sustainability from Northern California and The Netherlands Water Partnership. The chapter concluded its year with the popular Dutch Story Hour presented in the local schools and the annual Northern California Dinner Dance, this year honoring Dutch radio legend and journalist Jan Donkers.

Washington, DC hosted the 13th Annual NAF Awards Dinner on April 25, honoring four distinguished individuals for their contributions to furthering and enhancing business and cultural relations between the Netherlands and the United States (see full story, page 12). The chapter also conducted business events including a luncheon in January at The University Club with a presentation by Floris van Hövell, Counselor for Public Diplomacy, Press and Culture and a farewell dinner in June for Rear Admiral Michiel Hijmans, Defense Attaché, Royal Netherlands Embassy at The Washington Golf & Country Club.

The NAF’s oldest chapter, Chicago, hosted several networking events including The Business of Jazz, a panel discussion, concert and reception in January, in collaboration with The Jazz Institute of Chicago, the PianoForte Foundation and the Consulate General of the Netherlands. It also presented Reaching for the Top, a breakfast meeting in April, covering the do’s and don’ts of starting a business overseas and The Future of Sustainable Architecture in June, featuring prominent participants from the Netherlands and the United States and providing insights into sustainable architecture.

On the horizon in 2009 is further chapter development on both chapter and central office levels. As the NAF headquarters becomes more knowledgeable and involved with each chapter entity, it can provide more direct assistance to the chapter leaders and volunteers on the ground. We thank all of our chapter volunteers for their enthusiasm and commitment over the year, and look forward to building a dynamic and successful future with them!
The Education Committee continues to support students through fellowships and study loans. Together with the Fulbright Center in Amsterdam, the Committee selected 23 students to receive a NAF-Fulbright Fellowship. Twelve Americans were supported to pursue further study, research or training at universities in the Netherlands; eleven Dutch students were supported for the same activities at universities in the United States. The Committee also supported an additional six students through NAF Study Loans.

In anticipation of the Henry Hudson Quadricentennial, the Committee established two special awards. A grant was made to cover honoraria for European presenters at a two-day international symposium, The Worlds of Henry Hudson, to be presented at the State University of New York at New Paltz, in September 2009. Concept initiation and early stage support were also provided for The Island 2009, a virtual 17th-century environment in which students in New York and Amsterdam interact in a number of episodes spanning the period from 1609, when Henry Hudson first sailed up the Hudson River, to 1664, when the English took over New Amsterdam. The game is under development at the John Adams Institute and will be conducted in September 2009.

In other institutional grants, the NAF resumed support for Hofstra University’s Graduate Student Financial Management Exchange Program with Erasmus University. The NAF fulfilled the second phase of its two-year grant to the Leiden Model United Nations Foundation. The grant supports students to participate in the most prestigious simulation of the UN in the world, the Harvard National Model United Nations in Boston. The NAF also entered into the final year of a three-year commitment, supporting the Netherland-America Foundation Visiting Research Fellowship at the Van Raalte Institute at Hope College, designed to attract respected scholars from the Netherlands to conduct research at Hope College, and to disseminate knowledge through public lectures and publications.

The NAF Visiting Research Fellow for 2007-08 was Dr. Peter Ester, Professor of Sociology and Director of the Institute for Labor Studies at Tilburg University in the Netherlands. Dr. Ester’s research monograph was published in 2008 by Van Raalte Press under the title, “Growing Up Dutch-American: Cultural Identity and the Formative Years of Older Dutch Americans”. The Fellow for 2008-09 is Dr. George Harinck, who holds concurrent appointments at the Free University of Amsterdam, as Professor of History of Neo-Calvinism and Director of the Historical Documentation Center, and at the Theological Seminary of Reformed Churches (Liberated) at Kampen as Professor of the History of Reformed Protestantism. Professor Harinck conducted research on Dr. Nicholas Martin Steffens, who taught at Hope College and Western Theological Seminary from 1884-1895 and from 1903-1912.

In 2008, the Committee awarded Dr. Martine van Ittersum a grant to support her sabbatical as a Visiting Scholar at the Harvard University History Department, where she will complete a monograph on the working papers of Dutch jurist Hugo Grotius (Hugo de Groot).

The U.S. based Alumni Committee, under the leadership of alumna Renée Joosten and study loan recipient Judith Krens, organized the annual NAF Connection event, bringing together over 65 current and past Fulbright Fellows, NAF Directors, members and friends for an evening of presentations in New York City in March, 2008. The Netherlands based Alumni Committee, chaired by alumna Margje Lafourcade-Haverkamp, conducted a series of networking and social events, including a May 2008 event at the U.S. Consulate in Amsterdam concerning Dutch and American identity.

I thank the members of the Education Committee for their commitment to their role in selecting the most promising candidates—both Dutch and American—to receive NAF-Fulbright Fellowships and Study Loans.

On behalf of the Committee, I gratefully acknowledge the support from the income of the Peter Stuyvesant Ball and the many fellowship donors, as well as the donors who supported our alumni events.

The Cultural Committee funded a broad range of conferences, exhibitions, performances, publications and research, promoting a high level of artistic and intellectual exchange between the Netherlands and the United States. In 2008, the committee received many qualified and interesting proposals from both countries.

Amongst the projects awarded were grants for research covering subjects ranging from architecture to archaeology to health care policy. Funding included support for the study of a concrete house in the Netherlands built in 1911 using patents developed in the United States by Thomas Edison, with Dutch architect H.P. Berlage serving as consultant. Considered the “Father of Modern Architecture” in the Netherlands, Berlage was significantly influenced by Frank Lloyd Wright during a visit to the U.S. He later disseminated Wright’s thought throughout Europe, demonstrating the impact of cultural exchange, not only on his own development as an architect, but on the profession of architecture itself. In like fashion, exchanges promoted by the NAF’s cultural grants have the potential to stimulate creativity and forge new directions in the cultural arena.

The committee reviewed a wide range of exhibition-related proposals, prioritizing those with an exhibition timeline coinciding with the Henry Hudson 400 celebrations in New York. The committee supported the exhibition Fashioning Felt at the Cooper-Hewitt, National Design Museum, showcasing works by seven contemporary Dutch designers, amongst other artists, Scripture for the Eyes: Bible Illustration in Netherlandish Prints of the Sixteenth Century at the Museum of Biblical Art, and Dutch New York between East and West: The World of Margrieta van Varick at The Bard Graduate Center, celebrating the origins of the Dutch experience in New York and the origins of the unique relationship between America and the Netherlands.

In the performing arts, many theatrical, music and dance performances were supported. The Toneelgroep Amsterdam performed a Dutch language production of Opening Night in Brooklyn. The Willem Breuker Kollektief and other young Dutch composers performed at CalArts Theater (REDCAT) in downtown Los Angeles. The SITI Company of New York and the Maastricht Theater Academy collaborated in the performance of the play Death of the Ploughman at the Maastricht Theatre Festival. Dutch choreographer Paul Selwyn Norton premiered a new piece for performance in Philadelphia.

In 2008, the Committee funded student participation in the 10th International DOCOMOMO Conference held in Rotterdam in September, in addition to supporting practicing professionals in art, architecture and water management to attend conferences in their respective fields. To promote scholarly research and publication, the committee awarded several grants including a grant to the Los Angeles County Museum of Art for a comprehensive catalogue of its collection of 17th-century Dutch and Flemish paintings.

For the future, the committee anticipates continuing its support for the program initiative Five Dutch Days, which will bring expanded programming in contemporary visual arts, and to dedicating additional funding for projects created in celebration of Henry Hudson’s anniversary. While the Foundation continues to express interest in projects relating to the shared history between the United States and the Netherlands, it also encourages projects that will push the boundaries—or take advantage of—the fresh ideas, new technologies and innovative practices of our global community.

REPORT FROM THE ORGANIZING COMMITTEE

The 27th Peter Stuyvesant Ball, held on Friday evening, November 21, 2008 at the Grand Hyatt New York, gathered 350 individual and corporate supporters, among them prominent diplomats, business leaders, members of the Dutch community and other dignitaries. The sponsor of the Ball was PACCAR Inc, whose Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, Mark Pigott, served as Ball Chair. Mr. Pigott, an international corporate leader and passionate philanthropist, has led PACCAR, a Fortune 150 technology company and the parent company of DAF Trucks located in Eindhoven, since 1997. Together with his wife Cindy, Mr. Pigott is an advocate for education, the arts and social services, and took on his Ball duties with the same true dedication to ensure the net revenues for the NAF were significant for the year to come. The Ball is a primary source of funds for the NAF’s U.S. Fulbright Fellows program, enabling students to study in the Netherlands on a post-graduate level during the 2009-2010 academic year.

The evening opened with the cortege headed by the NAF’s patrons, Her Royal Highness Princess Margriet of the Netherlands and Professor Pieter van Vollenhoven and led by the Aide de Camp to her Majesty the Queen of the Netherlands. Soldiers from the U.S. Marine Corps presented the colors, and Nick van Vliet sang the U.S. and Dutch National Anthems, all projected on large video screens for easier viewing.

Welcome remarks were made by the NAF’s Chairman Ennius Bergsma and the Ball Chairman Mark Pigott, and toasts were made to the President of the United States and Her Majesty the Queen of the Netherlands. Philip Walkate, a professional stand-up comedian, presided over the events of the evening as Master of Ceremonies.

After completion of the formal part of the program, the guests dined on spicy shrimp in a mini pumpkin, squash bisque en croute, bacon-wrapped filet mignon paired with braised short beef, finishing the meal with a tropical paradise of rum pecan tart and mango dream cake. The table centerpieces were dramatic displays of white ostrich feathers placed in tall, black trumpet vases, with the stage adorned in various types of large palm leaves in white, gold and silver, designed by Dutch floral artist René Hofstede of Mille Fiori.

The theme of the Ball was The Harlem Jazz Ball, in recognition of the 350th anniversary of Harlem, founded by the Dutch under the Governorship of Peter Stuyvesant. True to the tradition of Harlem jazz, the guests danced to the 16-piece Harlem Renaissance Orchestra, who produced an authentic Big Band sound of Swing and Jazz under the direction of Ron Allen, while Omar Edwards in white tie and tails tap danced. The caricaturist Kirk T. Larsen performed his art dressed as Peter Stuyvesant.

While a silent auction was held in the Ballroom foyer, Henk Guitjens of JFK International Air Terminal joined me on the stage to supervise the raffle drawing, consisting of numerous prizes ranging from airline trips to Abu Dhabi, Amsterdam, Curacao, Jamaica, Kiev, London, Prague, Rio de Janeiro and San Francisco, complemented by accommodations at InterContinental Hotels, to gifts of bikes, bags, lingerie, concert tickets and more at a total value of $60,000.

The evening concluded at 3 a.m. with the popular post-Ball Folly Nightclub, headlined by Dave Brown and the Versatiles.

The Ball’s dedicated organizing committee was made up of Age B. Diedrick, the 19-year long Event Manager, and members Arjan Braamskamp, Henk J. Guitjens, Renée Lauverge-Schade, Simone Kreutzer, Jan Willem van Drimmelen, Eleanne van Vliet and Bernardina Zuideveld. The designer of the save-the-date card, invitation and program was Andrea Axelrod. The “official” hotel for the Ball’s guests was the InterContinental The Barclay New York.

The Ball was prominently featured in De Telegraaf, the largest newspaper in the Netherlands, on Monday, November 24, 2008.

COMMENTS ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

While, not surprising, we were adversely impacted by the economic turmoil in 2008, I am pleased to report that the NAF’s conservative approach to budgeting and financial management allowed us to maintain financial stability while protecting much of our spending on Program Services.

As shown at the bottom of the Summary Statement of Activities on the facing page, during 2008 the Net Assets End Of Year of the Foundation declined by $1,261,650, from $5,019,312 to $3,757,662. Of this decline, $171,829 was attributable to operations, $1,089,821 to losses on our investments. While this is not a result that one likes to see, it is helpful to put this into perspective; after several successful years, and a really bad 2008, the NAF’s Net Assets are essentially back to where they were in the beginning of 2005, when Net Assets stood at $3,859,743. Importantly, over that same period the NAF disbursed $2,873,828 in fellowships and grants.

At $906,134, revenues in 2008 were almost $380,000 below 2007. The largest contributor to this variance was a bequest in 2007 from the estate of Maarten van Hengel. Though Contributions and Grants at $397,854 were $80,000 above last year, this was caused by a special gift in kind. Other categories, such as the Peter Stuyvesant Ball and Special Events, which includes the NAF Awards Dinner and the Los Angeles Dutch American Heritage Day Gala, all experienced significant declines.

While expenditures on Program Services showed an increase, this was due to the decision by the Executive Committee to pass the special gift in kind to the Royal Library in The Hague. Without this item, Program Services would have come down to less than $800,000. Over the year, we instituted efficiency improvements that reduced Other Expenses, General and Administrative and Fundraising, by about six percent, or $15,000.

As mentioned, the NAF’s Change in Net Assets from Operations was a negative $171,829. This number is somewhat lower than the 2008 withdrawal of $187,729 from the Reuvers Fund, which was established to finance NAF-Fulbright Fellowships for Dutch Students, and requires an eight percent of balances to be withdrawn for this purpose. Taking into account dividends and interest income on this fund of $67,351, on an operating basis the NAF ran a deficit of $50,000. But losses on investments amounted to $1,089,821, representing a decline in fund values of about 26 percent.

While the results over 2008 have forced further downward adjustments in the budgets for 2009, the Foundation is in solid financial shape and has ample resources to weather the current storm. Also, the possibility that this year’s Peter Stuyvesant Ball, the grand finale of the Henry Hudson celebrations, will be quite successful, will hopefully allow us to at least maintain Program Services spending levels in 2010.

The Netherland-America Foundation, Inc. is a 501(c)(3) and 509(a)(1) not-for-profit organization. All contributions are tax-deductible for the purpose of U.S. federal and state taxes, to the extent permitted by state and federal law.

Charity Navigator, America’s premier charity evaluator, gave the NAF a second consecutive 4-star rating—their highest—for “its ability to efficiently manage and grow its finances, demonstrating to the public it is worthy of their trust.”
